

News Release

Media Contact:

Sheryl Denny

Startel Corporation

949.863.8774

sheryl.denny@startel.com

Startel Announces New Eastern Area Sales Manager

Irvine, CA – December 14, 2007 – Startel Corporation, a leading provider of telecommunications solutions, today announced Steve Newell as their new Eastern Area Sales Manager. Steve will report directly to Dan Feis, director of sales. Based in Atlanta, Steve's new role will focus on formulating solutions for our existing and potential new customers in the eastern United States.

"Steve has extensive industry experience working for a variety of value-added resellers and his background aligns very well with Startel's portfolio and strategic direction," said Feis. "His proven record of success selling PBX, ACD, IVR, VoIP and voice mail products based on a variety of vendor platforms positions him well to bring significant value to our customers."

"I am extremely excited to be representing Startel, the leader in contact center technology," said Newell. "I look forward to strategizing with our clients to optimize their business platforms by utilizing Startel's robust CMC suite of products."

About Startel Corporation

Startel Corporation is a leading provider of telecommunications solutions, offering both hardware & software solutions to hundreds of customers worldwide. Since its founding in 1980, Startel has built a loyal customer base in key markets such as Telephone Answering Services (TAS), Healthcare, Higher Education and more. Startel has leveraged its unique industry knowledge to empower call centers to achieve high levels of profitability. It has achieved these goals in industry after industry, deploying reliable, cost-effective and customized telemessaging solutions to its customers. For more information, visit www.startel.com.